

Hi everyone,

As I browsed the store today, choosing which treasures to share with you, I joked with Linda about how often I use food terms to describe the colors of our clothes. I said that I sometimes feel like I'm writing a recipe. "You are," she said, "a recipe for gorgeousness!"

Here's what's new this week...

* Lots of sweaters and jackets in perfect time for this cooler weather. There are so many that I'll just tell you that we have solid cotton and cotton blends, some exciting designs from a new fair trade and organic company whose pieces are unusual and sophisticated, and wonderful colors including classy creams and warming vermillion!

* I'm especially pleased with the new generation of cardigans which have more style than they're usually known for. Cathy eagerly snuggled up in this one today and we all thought it was just what we need for these chill afternoons when it still feels just too soon to light the wood stove.

* The vest on the right of the picture is from one of two new lines of slightly padded Tencel jackets, warm but light enough for fall. This range has a washed silk appearance and slightly fitted design, the other range is boxier and has a higher shine finish. Both have vests as well as jackets and the colors are deep and rich.

* Waffle weave jackets in a lovely long cut with two front pockets and large matching buttons. These are 100% cotton and you can choose from teal, periwinkle, olive, black or watermelon.

* Elegant silky jackets with a drawstring waist made from Bemberg and in a very classy charcoal color.

* Gorgeous Modal coordinating separates that are so soft and cozy it is no surprise they're called Comfy. There are long skirts with turn over waists and a whole range of tops and wraps. The palette is cream, cappuccino and mocha with a few select pieces in royal purple.

* Relaxed, supersoft, wide-rib corduroy jackets that can be worn indoors or outside.

* Here Cathy is modeling a super little stretch Tencel dress and pointing out to the Tianello addicts among you that we've just received their Tencel/cotton blend jackets. The teal in this range is somehow especially deep and striking.

* Cute and sparkly purses made from vintage recycled saris by a family of artisans in New Delhi.

* Fun and funky 100% sheep's wool felt purses with appliquéd flowers and mirrors. Change purses too.

Many of you are familiar with the work of Louise Hay who wrote You Can Heal Your Life. We have just received her little book of affirmations called The Present Moment which is designed to remind us that our point of power is always right now. I'll leave you with her words from number 146.

" The ocean of life is lavish with its abundance. Golden opportunities are everywhere. With my loving attitude, I help to create a world where it is safe for us to love each other."

* Remember - if you would like to ask questions about information in this email, please call us here at the store on 207 338 5659 since we don't check this email every day.

Wishing you peace, joy and laughter,

Becky
